Topic: DragonMaster XXI

Dame Tanara StormCaller

Hear ye! Hear ye! Queen Regent Tangena Skythasis has requested that I run DragonMaster XXI.

Saturday, September 8th at Midnight Sun (regular meeting location) Sunday, September 9th at Eagleshire

Items must not have been entered in a previous EH Kingdom level Cultural Event (Gecko Master entries are eligible).

Online registration will be open until 3pm Friday, Sept 7th. Registering online will make everything move smoother and faster for the day of. You will still need to check in before judging begins to pick up your stickers.

<http://www.amtgard-eh.com/library/DMpre-reg.html>

Regular Registration is from 11:30 am to 12:30 pm on the day of the event.

Judging will begin at 1:00 pm. Please have ALL entries registered by 12:30 pm. Special situations will be reviewed.

- Deadline to register is 12:30 pm each day.
- Items must not have been entered in a previous EH Kingdom level Cultural Event. Gecko Master entries will be allowed as long as they have not been entered in any other kingdom level cultural event.

- Limit of 3 entries per category. Only your best two entries in any given category will count towards your "overall" score.
- Cooking Entries – Bring all necessary serving utensils and plates.
- Written Entries – All entries, except publications, must be 5 pages or less. ALL written entries must be submitted BEFORE Tuesday, September 4th preferably in electronic format. Email them Tanara_stormcaller@yahoo.com
- Bardic Entries – Please be considerate with the usage of your time.
- Vintner Entries – Alcoholic vintner entries will be judged on Saturday only. Please bring any alcoholic entries in individual containers for the judges as they will need to be judged off park premises to abide by local law.

Scoring System: This event will be scored on a BTA (Better than average)

3.5 system. Ideally, the competitors will have diverse talents and score well. The object of this scoring system is to keep people from winning the cultural tournament by flooding one category or entering a lot of poor quality entries in order to increase their score. Cultural winner will be the person with the highest combined score from entries that meet the following requirements; only the entrant's two best entries in any given category will count towards their overall score. Entries that achieve a score that is lower than 3.5 will not count towards the entrant's overall score.

If you have any questions, please contact me at tanara_stormcaller@yahoo.com. If you wish to volunteer to judge or be a runner, please also contact me privately.

Topic: Weaponmaster
Lord Gabriel - Kingdom GMR

Weaponmaster is 9/8 and 9/9 at Midnight Sun and Eagleshire. Sign up for fighting shall begin promptly upon my arrival.

Fighting will begin at noon.

In correspondence with the theme of King Trinity's reign, the tournament shall be single elimination - single dual match (not best 2 of 3) and will feature many different fighting styles including:

Saturday

Florentine Long

Staff/Reach

Combat Throwing

Dagger

Shield & Flail

Short & Flail

Random Weapon Draw

Sunday

Single Short

Single Long

Long and Madu

Pole arm

Short and Shield

Florentine Short

Long and Dagger

Weapon Scramble

I have one less category on Saturday because throwing tends to take a little longer. Tournament will be seeded randomly. The Random Weapon Draw will be pulling a weapons style from a hat (or whatever is available) at the beginning of the first round and the combatant will keep it in subsequent rounds.

Let me know if there are any more questions.

BOD Meeting Minutes for 7.28.07

Lady Dreanya Jurista

Board of Director's Meeting Minutes July 28, 2007

In Attendance:

Andréa Jacobs
Kevin Kidwell
Richard Lawrence
Michael Peavy
John Elder
Jorge Rodas (late)

Guests:

Suzanne Lawrence

Meeting called to order at 11:09am at the corporate address: 301 Centennial Blvd Richardson, TX 75081.

First Order of Business

*Change/Election of President

John Elder nominated Andréa Jacobs to continue as President. Michael Peavy seconded. Passed 5-0-0.

*Election of the Secretary (Presented Out of Order) No nominations. Andréa Jacobs moved that the position of secretary be held over until next month's meeting. Passed 6-0-0.

*Election of Vice President

Jorge Rodas nominated Kevin Kidwell to continue as Vice President. Andréa Jacobs seconded. Passed 4-0-1.

Routine Business

Approval of June 23, 2007 minutes

The proposed minutes were missing a couple of entries on the petitioning parks. The Board discussed needed changes. John Elder moved that the minutes be passed with the discussed changes. Passed 5-0-0.

Monthly Update: BOD correspondence (A. Jacobs).

Andréa Jacobs has not sent the letter to Ms. Hurst regarding her donation yet as she is waiting until she receives the donation from Ms.

Hurst's son. Once the binding machine is received, she will send the letter.

Susan Tuscana received the letter from the Board via John Elder at the last event.

Update: Petitioning/Interested Parks (Rodas/Lawrence).

Storm Grove ~ Contract signed by Richard Lawrence on July 21, 2007. Contract complete.

Riverstone ~ Contract sent in by park. Richard Lawrence signed contract today at meeting. Contract complete.

King's Point ~ Contract sent in by park. Richard Lawrence signed contract today at meeting. Contract complete.

Mystic Mountains ~ Contract sent in by park. Andréa Jacobs moved the Board suggest the contract be returned to Mystic Mountains with an explanation as to why Richard Lawrence will not be signing it and to advise that the Emerald Hills will re-consider whether to enter into the contract after the assets of the Tal Dagore have been properly distributed. Passed 6-0-0.

Souls' Crossing ~ Contract complete. Jorge Rodas advised that he and Richard Lawrence would be attending an event with them on August 25, 2007.

Stonebriar (Plano, Texas) ~ On hold.

Unnamed park in Little Rock, Arkansas ~ Jorge Rodas advised he received interest from Kenshin but has heard nothing sense. Will keep the Board posted.

Old Business

Update: Collecting new park contracts. (Board) Richard Lawrence will bring the Mourningwood Glen contract on his next trip and have it signed before the next Board meeting.

Discussion: Storage Facility

The storage facility next to the corporate address is nearly $50/month.

We currently pay $19/month. The storage facility at 635/I-35E is $20-28/month. Tabled for more information and discussion.

New Business

Discussion: Award Standardization

Andréa Jacobs will present Richard Lawrence with a proposed draft of the Corpora with Award references removed to be in compliance with Awards Standardization for Althing submission.

Merchants at Events

Andréa Jacobs moved that the Board suggest to the RGK that the merchant's fee be waived temporarily. Passed 6-0-0.

Andréa Jacobs suggested that the Emerald Hills offer United States' coinage (silver and gold dollars) as alternatives to players for ambiance and cash exchange. It was advised that this system may not be in place by World Banner Wars because the merchant interest has been low.

Discussion: Tanglewood Forest Lease

The Tanglewood Forest Lease was last signed on August 20, 2004. It requires that it be reviewed for validity and application within five years. Andréa Jacobs and John Elder suggested that the review process begin due to the nature and complexity of said process. The Board discussed maintenance, expenses, and improvements associated with the Tanglewood Forest Lease. No Board action taken.

Next meeting scheduled for Saturday, August 18, 2007, at 11am at 301 Centennial Blvd Richardson, TX 75081.

Meeting adjourned at 12:44pm.

Chapter 2 - Northern Attack

Various

The messenger rode along the edge of a small river, anxious to reach the gates of the Northern Lands. He had been given a missive to deliver to the Duchy Duke personally, and had been promised payment upon doing so. The parchment he carried had been delivered to him in the dark of night by a cloaked figure who spoke in hushed tones.

"Take this and deliver it those who lead the Northern Forces. It is important that this be done quickly and with much haste. Leave at once and take much care in your journey."

After several days, the rider approached the Duchy gates. Searching out the leaders he delivered the package he was given.

"I was told to give this to you, and that I would receive payment for my journey."

The Duke handed the youth a small bag of coins and bid him his leave.

The Duke looked at the wax seal on the letter and a worried look crossed his face, for it was the mark of death and despair that sealed the parchment. Breaking the seal, the Duke opened the letter and began to read it to himself.

Unto those that protect the Northern Lands. A force of marauders has been observed headed to your lands. They are prophesied to be the destroyers of Crowns and will stop at nothing to accomplish their task. Gather your forces and defend your lands from this menace upon it. It has also been reported that they are in possession of an object that benefits its owner. Destroy the invaders and gain control of this valuable item. It will benefit you in the future.

Folding the parchment and putting it into a hidden pocket in his cloak, the Duke turned and strode off to conspire with his advisors.

Meeting with those who held the Duchy dear, he began to speak.

"Gather our forces and prepare them for battle, for we are to be invaded and must turn this attack away. We meet on the field of battle in one moons time."

Looking out the window, overlooking the Duchy, the Duke had a concerned look in his eyes. "Pray to the Goddess that we are able to overcome this foreboding pestilence and that all will be as it should be in the end," he whispered to himself.

To be continued

Sir Trinity

Tyrant of the Emerald Hills

Captain of Sable Pride

Lord of Shadows

Duke of Despair

Sutra Bahuas:

The inebriated men forced their way to the bar. Merriment and jeering had been spent hours ago. Only sobering concern remained.

For the past three hours, the victorious joy permeated the smoky air in the tightly packed tavern.

Stories of the successful battle filled every heart in the place.

"And the servants of the emerald dragon came and stood with us! Truly, our kingdom is united!" Young men yelled as they took deep gulps of dark ale.

"The sable dragon and it's naga minions were no match for the true duchy of Finders Keep! They were outnumbered six to one!", bellowed a hardened veteran.

He tipped his chair against the wooden column near the exit. His back faced the busy entrance. His chin pressed against his quiet chest. The chair occasionally complained of being balance on it's hind legs. Just another patron enjoying the laborious fruit of a few.

"I didn't even get a scratch!" yelled a middle aged man, seemingly freshly bathed, dressed as if ready for midday sacrifice.

Sutra listened to the most obvious explanations of their success this day.

He had been two days behind the battle in arriving. He hadn't planned on coming to the keeps aid since word reached him that a battalion of 30 dragon servants were marching north.

His trip to the west had been an experience worthy of a good night by the fire. Today, he listened as the description of the dragon, naga servants, and a pack of black dogs filled the mouths of the merry.

Some bragged to have seen the necklace the young boy had looted off the dragons scaly corpse. What it's power was would soon be revealed.

Sutra peered into the crowd and noticed the familiar faces of cut throats and wondered how the young man managed to leave their homeland alive, let alone with the artifact.

He chuckled as he bit into the small bitter green apple and made his way to the exit.

His travels would see him visiting the east now. To the place know as the Mystic Mountains, there a festival had been called for. Nobility from the eastern corners were said to be gathering then.

Sutra wondered what lavish foods awaited those who attended.

Chuckling he pulled his cloak tight against his shoulders and slowly ventured into the late night.

Victory had been theirs today, how long it would last; that was the fun part.

Quest for the Crown - Endreign RP for 6.30.07

Sir Delphos Darkheart

The air was thick with moisture and the Forest of Tanglewood had been turned into a swamp, as the season of Sol unleashed its full power.

Travelers from the south had made the long journey in a show of welcome to the new King and his lovely Queen and respect for the Grand Inquisitor as he passed the mantle of command to them.

Lord Sutra's court had become quite empty and his advisors were now few. He stood alone on his last evening as Monarch..His Regent had been captured by the Army of Salvation and along with him, the Regent's Crown was also missing.

The Grand Inquisitor summoned his most trusted subject... His own Dark Knight...!!!

Though even God was frustrated by the Man, Sutra knew that whenever the Kingdom truly needed him, Sir Delphos would always answer the Call.

And so it was that Honor and Loyalty had bound the Dark Knight on his quest to find and rescue the Prince Regent or return with the Crown, before the hour of the ceremony had passed.

Into the heart of the storm he traveled, with only the vaguest idea of his destination. The forces of nature herself stood against him. The swirling clouds formed a great eye in the darkened horizon and Delphos could see the shining orb of Luna herself gazing down upon him.

He was lost... the hills stretched out before him in all directions, the hard rain pelted him furiously and his sense of direction, as well as his slight hold on sanity had lessened to the point of letting go. Yet he had to succeed, for his failure meant that his Queen would not hold the symbol of her office and his Squire would stand in shame against the onslaught of an angry kingdom.

With the last bit of ingenuity he possessed, he held the magic crystals in his trembling hand and called out to the only powers which might guide him through this unknown land... She answered that call, as she had so many times in the past. For she was bound to him as he was to her.

The Dragon knew this realm far to the west of the Great Walled City and she sent her voice through space and time to still the panic she heard in the voice of the Dark Knight. She set his course true through the eye of the storm and before long Delphos found his way to the compound where the Prince was being held.

Standing at the outer gates, the Dark Knight could feel the White Powers within. A icy shiver ran down his spine as the rain pick up once again. Yet the feeling came not from the wetness, but from the foreboding energies emanating within the complex itself.

Noticing a group of what appeared to be priests or monks running along a trail a mere stones throw from the gates, Delphos called out... but the runners simply laughed at his requests and continued on their way.

His grip on sanity now at its end, the Knight took the only opportunity to pass through the gates as a chariot made its way out. Walking into the compound, he could feel the unwelcome stares from the torch lit windows of the many buildings this side of the complex.

Strong as they were, it was not enough to keep him at bay, as he pushed his way through the pouring rain, onward toward the sounds of laughter.

Reaching the first set of dormitories, he knocked with a heavy fist upon the solid wooden door and waited for a response... But none came. Again he knocked, this time with even more force than before. Still the door remained closed.

Frustration had begun to take its toll, as the Dark Knight became intensely angry at this lack of response form the vestiges of goodness. "How can they Not hear me" he thought to himself... or perhaps he screamed it aloud to the thunder overhead.

At last there came an answer... How many doors had he beat upon, he could not remember, but finally one opened. No one there knew where this "Prince" was, or even who he was by the description the Dark Knight gave. They scoffed at his explanation that the "Prince" held the Crown of the Kingdom Regent and must be given over to his successor.

Then all at once, the Goddess provided a means to find the lost Prince and recover the Crown. It came in the form of two ladies riding in a small chariot. Their curiosity seemed to outweigh their fear of the Mad Man who spoke of such things so foreign to their ears.

Off they went, with Delphos riding on the back of the chariot, the rain falling hard on his head. Stopping here and there, asking all those with some knowledge of the ones kept within the complex. The ladies traced the steps of the Prince as he had made his way to the gate itself, in hopes of finding the Dark Knight before any harm was done.

At last back to the gates they traveled. In a welcome embrace, the Prince held out the Regent's Box and handed it to Sir Delphos. The Dark Knight responded with a swift kick to the posterior of the Noble Bard and a hardy thanks.

"Tell them all I am sorry and I wish I could be there." he told the Knight. "But I am now bound by word and deed to these people and I cannot leave."

Delphos took the Box which contained vital records and, most of all, the Crown. He then bid the Bard goodbye and wished him well in his new calling, as he watched Nexus Crow walk back into the compound and the gates close behind him.

Summer Fest V

Various

Thanks to everyone for coming and making this an awesome weekend. We had pretty much given up on summer fest this year Lorell, Lujako, Yungshen many thanks for not letting us make that mistake;)

Sir Trinity, Sir Nevron, Sutra, Dizzy, and Torgas thank you for giving your time and making the long trip to help support our groups. Your presence and willingness to share the dream has renewed our sense of belonging to something bigger. Thank you so much for that:)

Lord Yungshen and the Riverstone group as always you guys rock! We know we can always count on you guys for fun and a helping hand:)

Derek and Heather awesome job on the A&S and Storm Groves! We're planning a visit this coming 15th Riverstone is going to send as many as they can as well. So, don't say we didn't warn ya;)

Erinn and Souls Crossing thanks for making that long trip always a blast to have you guys and was good to see some of my heathen brothers, and sisters :)

Chris and Kimmie of Wyrmsill thanks for the ton of help and the awesome feast!!

Lujako and Lorell of Falcon Tor thanks for.. well just thanks for everything over the past years. Will definitely be planning something up around Bar-K ;)

Evain, Daggentea, Raziell thanks for helping with the castle, reeving, and camping.

If I missed anyone Thanks to you as well:)

For those who couldn't stay for the after party all I can say is Gem Clear, Whip Cream and wenches:twisted:Full disclosure will require a camp fire, and much bribery with the above named ingredients :wink:

See everyone at WBW!

Strongdrake

Even though the drive was a tad long, and the weather was a tad uncooperative at first, the day proved to be great fun and well worth the effort. Lots of trenching and two decent battlegame made for a fun time for all.I know I reestablished some friendships and started up a few more.Hats off to the cooks of the feast, and long bow to those (and you know who you are) that partook and even participated with me in the anti-AT&T circle jerk.I hope the point was made. Until next time....

Sir Nevron

A simple note of humble gratitude for such a wonderful display of hospitality from the fine folk in Mystic Mountains!

Thank you Strongdrake for putting on such a great event! To the lady of the park (trying to remember the name, definitely remember her charm though, your wife); the feast was the best I've ever had!

To Daggentea for taking time out to photograph the parks day of activities! Erinn, keep me updated to the pics you took, can't wait to see em!

To Lord Yusheng, congrats on a well earned title!

To Derek and family for the awesome gift of the medicine bag! Happy items eh? Gotta find a pic of my wifey that small now...hehe.

To Erinn/Cruchu and the Saracen tribe of the East, wow! Way to show up guys and almost double the attendance! And to the drummer, both of em really, you guys gotta make it down to WBW and host a drumming demo! Ya'll in?

To all the reps present from Riverstone, Soul's Crossing, Storm Grove, Mystic Mountains, Tanglewood Park, Midnight Sun, Western Gate, and the park from whence Lujako and friend yield from! (did I miss anyone?); without you guys, the event would not have been the extreme blast it was!

Thanks all for displaying the awesome attitude I wish all of Amtgard had, definitely makes coming out to the park on a Sat/Sun so worthwhile!

Again, thank you all for the awesome time and I hope to see you all at Banner Wars!
