

NOT CLAN 2011

Between a Rock and a Hard Place

What: A battle at sea for the very survival of your quest to reach the island on the far side of the world and find the only thing that can save your race from oblivion.

When: Sunday...!!! Sunday...!!! Sunday...!!! Sunday July 31, 2011

Where: barony of Shadow Haven

The Story:

The Vortex remains open!

Leaving the Hills vulnerable to attack from the dark abyss!

Yet the Emperor is taking his royal forces to the gathering of the clans far away in the western kingdom.

Reports are slowly surfacing...

Tales of a great maelstrom forming in the lands between the known Baronies to the north.

Stories of a monstrous creature emerging from a massive crack in the earth which leads straight down to the bowels of hell itself.

Whispers of her name spoken only in the most hushed tones...

Skilla... Skilla... Skilla...

Ancient goddess from the time before time.

Eater of worlds, destroyer of all life... Skilla.

She must be stopped before she gains her full strength or there will be no hope left for those who call the Hills home.

Who will be brave enough to take the treacherous sea journey to the "Island of the Damned" to find the weapon of legend. The only thing that can stop Skilla!

Who will die in the cold deep waters between the Maelstrom and the Monster...

The Quest:

Two ships set sail to face the trials from the abyss.

Both must land on the island yet only one is destined to return...

The other, fated for sacrifice to the darker shapes that dwell beneath the surface.

The Question:

Who will be on board...?

Who will survive to tell the tale of the creature known only from ancient legends?!?!?

Between a Rock and a Hard Place...

Where will You be?
