

From the Park Officers

This is a short newsletter just to catch everyone up on what's been going in our little Barony.

First there are a few camping events coming up: Mid-Reign, Mayday, and Coronation. Make sure to check the calendar for the dates. We would love to see a larger turnout of King's Point members.

We also have some events we will be hosting out our park as well. Next month we will have the St. Patrick's day game and a belt weaving class. And then in April, we are hosting a leather working class. If you want to see a specific workshop done, please inform one of the park officers and we'll see what we can put together.

Last thing, we are doing more online now. If you haven't signed up to receive the email updates and announcements, then ask Fenris to be put on our mailing list. Also we set up a Yahoo group dedicated to King's Point. So sign up and log on and check it out.

I hope everyone is having fun this reign. If not let us know what we can do to make it so.

Thanks,

Magnus

Champion's Corner

The sun is shining, the air is getting warm and the light is lasting longer. In a week or two I think we'll be ready for fighter practice. This time around, it's going to actually be fighter practice.

I, as Champion, will be running this to improve the park as a whole. I will be taking in feedback to know what the park wants to learn and be watching on Sundays to find areas we need work on. Fighter practice will concentrate on all aspects of Amtgard combat, from sword, pole, and even great if we can. I plan on teaching weapon construction too.

The first point that needs to be addressed is team tactics and leadership. I've seen teams dissolve in to a mess of players just trying to win solo. Not to mention, there are players that could be leaders but aren't paid any attention. I'm going to teach them how to stand up straight and get attention.

I'm not going to say it's the most impressive project to take on, but I think it will serve the park. All I'd like is your support and possible attendance. I'm hoping to hear back from you soon.

Farewell to the King

Our King, Alby the Honorable, has gone missing.

He was last seen leaving Dragon Master at Eagleshire with his wife Gryndell, Sir Forest Evergreen and Dark Tigger.

Witnesses say that a band of brigands forced the king's carriage off the road and made off with him before anyone knew what was happening.

Both Forest and Tigger were left babbling incoherently, but it was later determined that they were just being themselves.

A K.P. search party found the brigands but could not overtake them and return our king to his throne.

We hope to one day recover his body for a proper burial.

KP's 2nd Workshop

On Sunday February 13th Kings Point held a "Basics of Sewing" workshop to help the populace get garbed.

Fenris graciously opened her house to us, and Lady Alessandra taught us how she makes garb.

She covered choosing and altering patterns, cutting fabric, and most importantly how to use the sewing machine.

Some of the more experienced attendants shared their techniques.

It was good to get different perspectives.

At the end we had a few new pieces of garb and some new skills to practice.

Thanks to everyone who attended.

We will be doing another workshop soon.
