7.0 Rules and your rights to have fun.

So did ya have fun this Banner Wars? Yeah, well isn't that great. You must have been ready for the new rules set into motion! Was that sword legal? Did you get your arrows checked 5 times by the same reeve? Did the 2.5" measure-meter remind you of better days back in prison? Were your throwing daggers called illegal due to their lack of life like similarity to brick size? We'd love to hear feedback from ya! Where you from out of town and showed up to have all your weapons called illegal. Where you one of the lucky ones who managed to make some makeshift correct sized pommels out of potentially hazardous materials? It doesn't matter really. The 7.0 rules are set in motion, rewritten by folks who may have never ever played your class. So have fun hankering about the future of Amtgard cause it's only begun! You can make a change!

Pirate Prono Exclusive

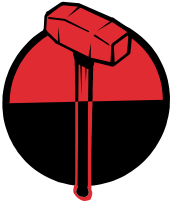

So driving down from the north on I-45, you may be aware of a prono shop about 15 miles away from the 45 Corsicana Business Exit. This month's special release? 'Pirates', a riveting drama full of suspenseful plundering of all sorts of piratical booty. Ranked as the number one timber shivering Pirate prono, it's sure to put that red x on your map. Even Sister Elena of the Fraternized Order of Divine Piratering swears it'll put a new breeze in your hoisted mast. Now keep in mind this isn't the same kind of hole filling as seen in last month's feature film, 'Sponge and the GCA - Birth of the Hole Filler'.

I'm so sure it'll be a sure fire bet it'll take you back to past menageries seen at Corsair camp. or is that the Purple Pirate Pit? So make sure you reserve your copy now, simply take exit 244 going south on I-45 and don't be a swab and get your copy today!
